

March

The students and staff were saddened to hear of Mrs. Penner's medical results so they wanted to think of something to cheer her up. The students put their ideas together and decided to make a poster to give her some positive thoughts. The students and staff posed next to their poster and snapped a picture. Mrs. Crockatt will send our photo to Mrs. Penner this week, she is in our prayers.

Our school Tower Garden has been fully cleaned out and replenished with a fresh new stock of vegetation. From our first round of planting we tried a variety of vegetables from lettuce, tomatoes to peppers. From this we have learned that the tomatoes were growing at a rapid rate and ended up completely taking over the entire Tower Garden, depriving the other plants. This time around we are now focused on lettuce and peppers. When the weather warms up we intend on planting a whole new stock with flowering vegetables. Previously we have been hand pollinating our plants but have learned that the quality of vegetables being produced was not up to par with naturally pollinated vegetables. We also have learned that the bulbs that are provided with the Tower Garden are not full spectrum lighting. With these two obstacles out of the way, we hope to have an even more flourishing Tower Garden.

Have you ever wondered what the healthiest fast food restaurant is? Well who knew one existed! Miss Kutcher's class has been studying and analyzing the various types of meals offered at all types of fast food restaurants. The students have learned that for burger restaurants Burger King is by far the worst for calories and fats. The students also learned that Tim Horton's seemed to offer the healthiest options out of all the places.
